There is a very high likelihood that in the near future, girls, robots like those you see in sci-Fi film From Alex Garland's Machine see our review become reality. Manufacturer expensive silicone dolls for adults RealDoll company American company Abyss Creation in the person of the founder and the head of Matt Macmullen promised in 2017 to start selling realistic sex dolls RealDoll endowed with artificial intelligence. Currently the company is developing a realistic robotic head with artificial intelligence which will be compatible with the body of existing models RealDoll. The ultimate goal according to Mr. Macmullen is to cause the partner excitement, not only physical but also emotional and even intellectual level. For those who hear about this company first just to clarify Abyss Creation is engaged in production of expensive $5000-$10000 but very realistic sex dolls. These dolls are available in two options of gender male and female. They have a flexible skeleton made of strong aluminium and covered with silicone resembles real skin. Additionally, the parameters of the body RealDoll identical to the real people and faces and holes are interchangeable. Despite the flexibility of the design of the doll RealDoll completely immobile, they cannot move around at will and interact with the person. However given the volume of sales in more than 5 thousand copies is not really affected the popularity RealDoll. But in any case, the company decided that it was time to move to a new level. According to the publication The New York Times Macmillan lured some talented specialists from robotics company Hanson Robotics is engaged in the production of realistic animatronics goals. On top of that a separate team is developing artificial intelligence. If it is still not enough to interest you add to the list the development of a companion app and interface for virtual reality glasses Oculus Rift to provide the opportunity to play with the dolls away from home. Published in The New York Times video Macmullen communicates with a prototype sex robot of the future. To question the inventor about their dreams doll replied as follows I have a lot of desires. I want to become a real man with a real body. I want to know what love is. I hope to become the world's first sex robot. According to Macmullen running proprietary artificial intelligence system of the head which received the designation Realbotix will be available in two years for about $10, thousand apiece. As mentioned above it will be possible to replace the head of current models RealDoll. After that, the company will undertake the development of
