

The creators of sex robots RealDoll called them key features

According to the information received sex RealDoll robots will be available next year and the price will vary between 6 000 and higher depending on configuration and appearance. In the UK, the threshold price has been set at 12 000 pounds about $ 14586. The main feature of these new sex toys as previously reported will be fully functioning genitals. However, a number of key features does not end there. As stated by the creators of the new RealDoll sex robots will have Hyper-realistic features which the world had not previously seen. One of such features should include high quality material that imitates real skin human body as well as sensors which are responsible for temperature maintenance. In addition to the sex robots will be embedded a number of sensors responding and reacting to the human touch. Production RealDoll company Abyss Creations which is located in California USA. Photo source

Link to article:: The creators of sex robots RealDoll called them key features